

The Ohio State University 2020 Philosophy & Critical Thinking Summer Camp

Freedom & Flourishing

Do we have free will?

Is happiness more important than freedom?

Can too much freedom be bad for you?

What makes for a meaningful or good life?

What can we learn about freedom and the good life
from diverse philosophical traditions?

Join our summer camp to explore questions like these!

Past participants have described their experience as fun and a unique learning experience.

“[A] great experience to learn new things about not only philosophy, but college, other people, and yourself.”

“I experienced major growth in my... critical thinking skills. I feel that I am now more open to both sides of an argument than ever before.”

“A powerful learning experience that wasn’t stressful, just fun.”

For more information and to apply, visit us at philosophy.osu.edu/pact

PACT

We accept applications from students in 8th-12th grade

Taught by
Ohio State University
Professors and Instructors

2 one-week sessions:
Session I: June 8-12, 2020
Session II: June 15-19, 2020

Priority Application Deadline:
April 20, 2020

Tuition: $350

Full Scholarships Available!

Questions?
Email
OhioState.PACT@gmail.com

THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY