TEACHING PHILOSOPHY

PHILOS 5010S: a service-learning course

If you love philosophy, you may want to share that love by teaching philosophy to others. But how can we help others to develop the skills for reasoning and discussion that philosophers tend to value? What can we do to make our lessons engaging, inspiring, and memorable? Explore ideas and strategies for teaching philosophy, and put these ideas and strategies to work co-teaching philosophical ideas at a local high school.
