The Departments of Linguistics and Philosophy at Ohio State cordially invite you to join us for an interdisciplinary workshop on reference. As you can see, we have a fantastic mix of linguists and philosophers. By bringing together experts from both fields, we hope to shed new light on the nature of reference. Hope to see you there!

- Where: Ohio State University (Columbus, OH)
- When: March 21 & 22, 2013
- Website: http://ling.osu.edu/pragwiki/index.php/Workshop_on_Reference
- Registration Fee. A $20 registration fee is requested for non-OSU attendees to cover the cost of drinks and snacks. If you are planning to attend, please register beforehand by emailing the following address: reference@ling.ohio-state.edu
- Organizers: The workshop is co-organized by the departments of Linguistics and Philosophy at OSU. The organizers would like to thank those departments, the Buckeye Language Network, the College of Arts & Sciences, and the OSU Pragmatics Initiative for funding.

Schedule

Note: All talks will be held in the Ohio Student Union, but in different rooms March 21 and 22. For directions to the Student Union, use – www.osu.edu/map/building.php?building=161 – and click “view building on google map”. As soon as info is available, we will update the schedule so that you can click on the title of the talk listed below to view the abstract. Invited participants will have dinner at Figlio’s at 7 p.m on Thursday. But everyone involved is invited to a catered party hosted by the organizers on Friday night at 7 p.m.; a map will be provided at the workshop. Please email reference@ling.ohio-state.edu with any questions.
